

TEUTONIC DRIVE PROVING COSTLY

Russ Claim Austro-German Forces Lost 'Tens of Thousands' in Two-day Battle and 120,000 to 150,000 Along 38-Mile Front in Galicia—Stand Made in Prepared Positions 16 Miles From Lemberg—Allied Forces Annihilated in Attack Near La Basse—British Are Making Scant Headway in Dardanelles' Campaign.

London, June 18.—The assertion is made by the Russian War Office that the Austro-German advance in Galicia has been made at the cost of great losses.

In two days' fighting near Stry, the Teutonic forces are said to have lost "tens of thousands of men," and on one section of 38 miles on the Galician front, between May 29 and June 15, their losses are placed at between 120,000 and 150,000.

Reports from Berlin and Vienna, however, indicate that the Russians are being pushed back steadily all along the front.

Berlin, June 18.—In northern Galicia an official statement says, the Russians have been pushed back further. They have made a stand behind prepared positions at Grodek, which is only 16 miles from Lemberg.

London, June 18.—An attack on French and British forces on the western end of the German line, which has been pushed vigorously and with considerable success for some time, is said by Berlin to have sustained a severe check.

Constantinople, via Berlin, June 18. An inspection of the Turkish positions at Avi Burnu on the west coast of the Gallipoli peninsula, made by a correspondent of the Associated Press, shows that the British have lost most of the ground formerly held in that district.

They now hold only a small crescent to the northward of Gaba Tepec on the west coast of the peninsula, near its extremity, 2800 yards long and 1100 yards wide at its broadest point.

This position includes three small barren hill crests and a beach below. The British troops have little water and they are without shelter from the sun.

A correspondent of the Associated Press, permitted to visit the Gallipoli peninsula, was reliably informed that the British fleet had taken refuge from German submarines in Kafala Bay, on the northeast coast of Imbros Island, distant about 10 miles from the Gallipoli coast.

The British ships could be seen from heights on the shore, at anchor in the bay. On three different occasions the Turks have been successful in exploding mines under British vessels in their place of refuge.

Berlin, June 18.—Official announcement was made here today that the allied forces which attacked German positions north of La Basse, northwestern France, was destroyed, only a few succeeding in retreating.

BULGARIA IS MAKING SURE

Berlin, June 18.—A report says that Bulgaria, in her last communication to the powers in the matter of her participation in the war, refers to her expectation, as part of her reward, of the restitution of the territory she ceded to Roumania and other portions of Greek and Serbian Macedonia.

STAHL INDICTED FOR PERJURY

New York, June 18.—Gustave Stahl, the German reservist who swore in an affidavit, submitted to the State Department by the German Embassy, that he saw guns aboard the Lusitania, was indicted for perjury today by a federal grand jury.

It is reported from many quarters that Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, who has just arrived at Berlin with a personal message from the German ambassador to the Kaiser, was accompanied by no less a person than Dr. Alfred Meyer, privy counselor of the first rank, chief of the department of army supplies of the ministry of war and a power in the German government.

TORNADO KILLS 13

Kansas City, Mo., June 18.—Thirteen persons were killed as a result of the wind and rain storm that prevailed in this section of the southwest last night. More than a score of others were injured, none fatally.

Five members of the family of John Burgess, a farmer near Onaga, were killed, and two seriously injured in a tornado which swept the country early today, according to reports received at the Topeka offices of the Union Pacific railroad.

The same report asserted that houses were wrecked, stock was killed and much property damage done.

At Westmoreland, Kansas, Charles Morris, a railroad president, his son and a druggist were drowned, when a bridge gave way under a railroad gasoline car. The accident followed a cloudburst.

Three persons lost their lives at Richmond, Mo., when a terrific wind swept that section. Two women and a child were killed there.

A farmer near Wamago was struck by lightning and killed.

The farmhouse of Joseph Gregg, located 3 miles south of Latour, Mo., was blown to pieces early today, his aged aunt, Mrs. Altman, being killed. Another aunt, residing with him, Mrs. Gregg, was injured, it is thought fatally. Gregg and his wife escaped. The dead total 13.

DEFIANCE IS IN REPLY TO PRESIDENT'S NOTE

"President" Chazaro, Head of the Villa-Zapata Government, Challenges Consistency of Wilson and Says If Note Is Threat "Dignity of Mexican People Will Be Maintained"—Food Situation Desperate at Vera Cruz—Admiral Howard Acted Upon Own Initiative.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 18.—Francisco Lagos Chazaro, the latest president of the Villa-Zapata coalition government in Mexico City, today replied to President Wilson's Mexican statement by challenging the consistency of the president's declaration with his much-discussed Indianapolis speech.

Chazaro says the convention government cannot reconcile the president's notice to the factional leaders with the president's declaration in Indianapolis that he had no disposition to interfere in Mexican affairs, "but," says Chazaro's reply, "we continue to conjecture that the general idea of President Wilson's proclamation is to help us in a friendly way."

Washington, June 18.—The food situation in Vera Cruz has become so desperate that Rear Admiral Caperton, fearing food riots, has proposed that warships transport the relief supplies and thus increase his forces.

For the present the Navy Department will not increase American forces there and will continue sending food supplies on transports.

Admiral Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet, in taking two cruisers on the relief expedition to the Yaqui valley, acted on his own initiative. When the admiral arrives, five American warships will be off Guaymas.

DONAHEY WILL BE CANDIDATE

Columbus, June 18.—State Auditor A. V. Donahey announced today he would be a candidate for re-election next year on the Democratic ticket, provided he is nominated. He said he had no ambitions to run for governor, though a number of friends has urged him to stand for that position.

MEDIATION THE ONLY WAY TO END CONFLICT

Says Bryan in Third Statement Issued on "Causeless War"—Neutrals Should Crystallize Sentiment in Favor of Peace Into a Coercive Form and Offer Mediation, Is His Theory—Universal Extension of Investigation Commission Would End War and Root Out Desire for War, Says Former Secretary.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 18.—Former Secretary Bryan, in the third and concluding section of his statement on "The Causeless War," issued today, suggests mediation as "the way out." As a preventative of war Mr. Bryan proposes universal extension of his investigation commission peace treaty plan.

"Mediation," the former secretary of state said, "is the means provided by international agreement, through which the belligerent nations can be brought into conference; time for investigation of all disputes is the means by which future wars can be averted, and the cultivation of international friendship is the means by which the desire for war can be rooted out."

In elaborating his plans for restoration of peace, Mr. Bryan urges that neutral nations, in advocating peace, crystallize sentiment in favor of peace into a coercive force and offer mediation jointly or severally.

"Great nations cannot be exterminated," says Mr. Bryan, "Predictions made at the beginning of the war have not been fulfilled. The English did not destroy the German fleet in a month. Germany did not take Paris in two months, and the Russian army did not eat Christmas dinner in Berlin."

"But even if extermination were possible it would be a crime against civilization, which no nation or group of nations could afford to commit."

"When can peace be restored? Any time now, if the participants are really weary of this war and ready for it to end."

CLAIM MAIL WAS OPENED

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 18.—The first official protest growing out of reports of the interference with the mails since the European war began was before Secretary Lansing of the State Department today, with a request for action.

The complaint was lodged by the Swedish minister, for his government, and it is declared United States pouches destined for Sweden have been broken open in England; that letters have been broken open in England and censored, and that one registered letter had been retained.

It was said in diplomatic circles that representations would probably be made by the United States to Great Britain, asking that special precautions be taken to protect American mail passing through British territory.

FIRST FIGHT OF ITS KIND IN HISTORY

By Associated Press.

Venice, June 18.—Details have been received here of the recent remarkable engagement between an Italian and an Austrian submarine in which the Italian boat was vanquished. This is the first time in the history of naval engagements that an encounter by undersea boats has been recorded.

The Italian boat was the Medusa. She was lying submerged and the Austrian boat was not far away, also under water. Neither one had any intimation of the presence of the other.

The Medusa came to the surface, swept the horizon with her periscope and, finding the way clear, she emerged. Shortly afterward the Austrian boat came up. She set up her periscope and saw the Italian not far away.

Recognizing an enemy the Austrian boat immediately attacked and one shot from her torpedo was sufficient to send the Medusa to the bottom. One report has it that an officer and four members of the crew of 14 men of the Medusa escaped, and were made prisoners by the Austrians.

The president of Johns Hopkins university says that a large percentage of students nowadays do not aim at a "well defined career or profession." What, then, would he call the aim to be "a college graduate?"

BERNSTORFF PERSONALLY DENIES STORY

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 18.—Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, today personally informed Secretary Lansing that neither he nor any member of the embassy staff had any knowledge of a Dr. Meyer said to have been secretly in the country buying war supplies.

Published reports have said that Meyer returned to Germany under a safe conduct obtained for Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, from the allies by the United States, at the ambassador's request.

The ambassador also assured Secretary Lansing that Dr. Meyer-Gerhard never had engaged in any work other than his mission for the German Red Cross. He made no request for an official investigation of the published charges.

Science Denies Theory

Science refuses to support the theory that the effect of explosives in the air causes rainfall. On the contrary she is inclined to take issue with the various newspaper articles of the past month which have to this cause attributed the excessive rains, interfering with the operations of the fighting battalions, and brand such statements as showing lack of careful investigation.

Science has demonstrated that those forces of nature which result in condensation and precipitation are silent forces. Vaunted attempts to produce rain in the laboratory by explosives have not proved the success expected and the discharging of high explosives in the air has not been followed by any uniform results in falling rain.

To be sure, rainfall has frequently attended battles and followed closely upon them, but there have been just as many outbursts of explosive force accompanied by sunshine rather than rain.

The immense discomfort on battlefields drenched with rain impresses such an occasion upon the minds of soldiers. We hear often of the water soaked field of Waterloo, while no mention is made of Napoleon's numerous fair weather battles.

The Fourth of July, with its very mild use of explosives, is quoted as proverbially rainy, but the veterans of the civil war can recall comparatively few battles which were followed by heavy rains.

In Essex, England, the great guns for the army and navy are tested out, and no other section of that country is so frequently subjected to the shock of explosives, yet English records of meteorology show that the rainfall of Essex is a fraction less than that of any other portion of England.

In citing the excessive rains which were attributed to the discharge of high explosives, these writers have apparently forgotten those preceding weeks, with the struggle just as fierce, marked by exceptionally dry weather.

There are certain parts of Europe especially given to frequent rainfalls, for instance, Belgium, where under ordinary conditions rain falls more than half the days of the year, and Ireland, where constant showers preserve the beautiful green of the "Emerald Isle."

Fertile as is the theory of the effect of discharging explosives in producing rainfall, scientific writers are inclined to attribute the argument by which people substantiate this theory to a memory not always dependable, and which in attempting to prove the theory overlook conditions which are equally strong in disproving these statements.

War Will Be Worth
All Its Great Cost
If It Brings Abstinence From Alcohol

By Colonel L. MERVIN MAUS, Medical Corps, U. S. A.

EVEN if the war in Europe costs ten billion dollars, if it destroys five million human lives and devastates the fairest countries of the world it will be a small price to pay compared with the value of total abstinence among those nations for succeeding generations. And I feel that it will come to that in the natural results of the war. This is not only a war of men against men, but a war against the greatest evil the world has ever known. THE WORLD HAS NEVER AWAKENED TO THIS EVIL, BUT THE WAR IS BRINGING TO THE UNDERSTANDING OF THIS WORLD THE EFFECTS OF ALCOHOL UPON THE HUMAN MIND.

I have advocated to the department that the men in the military, naval and civil services of the United States should be compelled by law to be total abstainers. Government employees should not be allowed to drink during active service. I have advocated this for a long time, and I hope that the day is not far distant when every officer's commission will bear a temperance clause.

IT IS MY BELIEF THAT ANY MAN HAS AS MUCH RIGHT TO TAKE A HYPODERMIC INJECTION OF MORPHINE OR COCAINE AS A DRINK OF WHISKY.

Poetry For Today

THE FLOWER.

Once in a golden hour
I cast to earth a seed.
Up there came a flower,
The people said, a weed.

To and fro they went
Thro' my garden-bower,
And muttering discontent
Cursed me and my flower.

Then it grew so tall
It wore a crown of light.
But thieves from o'er the wall
Stole the seed by night;

Sow'd it far and wide
By every town and tower,
Till all the people cried,
"Splendid is the flower."

Read my little fable;
He that runs may read.
Most can raise the flowers now
For all have got the seed.

And some are pretty enough,
And some are poor indeed;
And now again the people
Call it but a weed.

And to the deck he made his way.

He said, "I see the wets have won."

The wets, I fear, will soon go slow."

"He was," admitted the boss. "He

THE FATAL COCKTAIL.

A working girl who had been out of work
for a whole year
Secured a job attending bar at the Cafe de Beer.

The job was not a swell one, but the poor girl needed dough
And she was glad to throw the suds and ring up five per throw.

She copped out three square meals an hour, and she was getting plump.
When one sad day a highbrow wandered into that there dump.

Now, this poor girl had never mixed a drink since she'd been hired.
And when she faced that highbrow she was scared and she was tired.
"Give me a nice Bronx cocktail," said
the highbrow, with a grin.
"Yessir," the frightened girl replied, and then she started in.
She grabbed a beer glass, and she used some port wine for a start.
Then added some hot bitters as she calmed
her fluttering heart.

Next came some booze, some absinthe,
some elder and some Bass,
Some gin, some rum, some sherry, until she filled the glass.

"Here is your drink," she said, "and if it's good I'll make some more!"
The highbrow drank the mixture and he fell down on the floor.
The coroner was summoned, but the man had kicked the pail.
Then to the girl a copper said, "You'll have to go to jail."

Iceland and Ireland.

Iceland was once very near to becoming a part of the British empire.
Uninhabited until the middle of the ninth century, it was first discovered by a little company of Irish monks, who had fled their own land to escape
the ravages of the pagan Norsemen.
They built themselves a home in the new land, and seemingly intended to stay when, after a few years, the Norsemen also discovered Iceland, and the monks fled back to Ireland. Not a few Scotch and Irish emigrants, however, found their way to Iceland in later times.—London Express.

their power to do harm has in-

is interesting to note in passing that many important sanitary ordinances,

PAINTED POST.

Story of the Incident That Gave the Place Its Name.

There's not a drummer between New York and San Francisco who hasn't at some stage of his drumming career made game of the name of the town of Painted Post. And after everybody laughs you may hear the query, "But I wonder where it did get its name?"
Here is the story:

In the summer of 1779 the English and Indians under a loyalist, McDonald, and Hlakotao, a renowned Seneca war chief, returned north from a raid by way of Pine creek, the Tioga and the Conhocton. They brought with them their own wounded and some prisoners taken at Freely's fort.

Under the elms at the confluence of the Tioga and Conhocton Captain Montour, a half breed and a noted war chief, died of his wounds. He was the son of Frontenac by the famous Indian Queen Catherine. He was buried by the river side, and above his grave was placed a post on which were painted various symbols and devices. This monument became known as the painted post and was a landmark often visited by the braves and chieftains of the Six Nations.

The post stood for many years after the settlement of the country. Finally it rotted down at the butt and was preserved in the barroom of a tavern until 1830, when it disappeared. Some say it was swept away during a freshet.—

CURIOUS COBRA TRAP.

And a Queer Snake Theory Held by the Natives of India.

A naturalist tells us of an odd kind of snake trap that caught its victim securely. It was a biscuit can, and in the bottom of it were some macaroons.

A cobra spied the can, but a mouse was ahead of the cobra. The little thief was having a good time regaling himself on the macaroons, all unconscious that a snake was preparing to regale itself on mouse. Into the can went the head of the snake, but the head that went in was destined to come out less easily. The rough edges of the can had irritated the cobra, and involuntarily it dilated its hood. That made it a prisoner. With the hood dilated the cobra remained in its tin prison until morning, when it was easily captured and killed.

Stradling, who knows the natives of India as well as he knows the snakes of that land, tells of an interesting theory held by these people. They are firmly convinced that for every human being a snake bites it loses one joint.
When the number of deaths the snake has caused equals the number of its joints the venomous head alone remains. The snake has now reached the height of its wicked desires, and at this point it develops wings and triumphantly disappears.— Washington Star.

The Clock's Hands.

"Come, hurry up!" said the second hand of a clock to the minute hand.
"You'll never get around in time if you don't. See how fast I'm going," continued the fussy little monitor as it fritted round on its pivot.

"Come, hurry up," said the minute hand to the hour hand, utterly oblivious of being addressed by the second hand. "If you don't be quick you'll never be in at the stroke of 1."

FIFTY AUTOMOBILE LOADS OF GREENFIELD CITIZENS COMING

Public invited to Attend Union Session of the Men's Bible Classes of Greenfield and Grace Church at 2:30 Sunday Afternoon — Need of More Machines for Trip to Greenfield, One Week From Sunday.

Considerable interest centers on the coming to this city Sunday afternoon, of the Ergonian Men's Bible class of the M. E. church of Greenfield, and it is announced that 50 automobile loads will be utilized to carry the visitors.

The union meeting of the visiting class and the Mills Gardner Memorial Class of Grace church, will be held in the main auditorium of Grace Church at 2:30 o'clock, and the general public will be made welcome. The entire down-stairs portion of the main auditorium will be reserved for the two classes.

The meeting will be presided over by Judge T. N. Craig, president of the local class, and the leading address of the afternoon will be delivered by Rev. F. M. Swinehart, of Greenfield, and Editor O. A. White, of Greenfield. Rev. Ross will deliver the address of welcome. The regular choir will lead the congrega-

REOPENING OF THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The work of decorating the First Baptist church has just been completed by the Bryant Bros. Company of Columbus, Ohio. The color scheme consists of somber creams for the ceiling merging into shades of cathedral gray for the side walls.

The colors and designs of the ornaments are also most harmonious. The frieze is of a center fixture or pendant connected with band effect back of which there is a blending of colors which very appropriately offset the upper side walls. In the baptistry there is a blending of colors from a sky blue to a darker blue of a greenish hue. The whole tends to give a pleasant, restful feeling to the observer. The work has been highly commended and favorably commented upon by various well known competent judges of art in this city.

The building is being thoroughly renovated and the pews and floors re-finished. This work will be completed before Sunday, June 20, when appropriate services will be held both morning and evening.

C. H. & D. STILL NEEDS PROTECTOR

Reports filed by Receivers Judson Harmon and Rufus B. Smith, who for the past several months have been operating the C. H. & D. railroad, show that the April deficit of the road was $83,669.49.

Earnings decreased very materially during the month.

THREE ARE TAKEN TO XENIA WORKS

Chief of Police D. L. Moore and Patrolman Baughn accompanied Florence Mann, Belle Mann Green and Ray Smith to the Xenia workhouse Friday morning, and turned them over to Supt. D. E. Crowe for a lengthy term in that institution.

The two women were sentenced to three months in the institution, and are expected to remain the full time. Smith was fined $100 and the costs for resisting an officer and will be required to work out that amount.

Florence Mann, who recently left this city in company with a man who deserted his family, and her sister, Bell Green, sentenced to the works for failing to provide for her minor child, each have a $200 fine hanging over their heads, and if their conduct crosses with the law after they are released, the $200 will be enforced.

George Green, husband of Belle Green, still has several weeks in the workhouse. He is said to be sullen and not inclined to obey readily, making prison life doubly disagreeable.

WILL OPEN NORTH STREET TOMORROW

It will be good news to local citizens to learn that North street from East street to Paint street, is to be thrown open to traffic sometime Saturday.

The street has sufficiently "cured" to permit of moderate loads, but extremely heavy loads should not be hauled over the street for a few days.

Since the street is to be opened, it will offer easy access to Grace church when the 50 automobile loads from Greenfield arrive in this city Sunday afternoon.

THINKS BOOZE HAD BEEN DOPED

A man giving the name of Z. T. Malone, of Burlington, North Carolina, who was on his way to this city and said he was associated with the "Keystone View Company" which is said to be located here at the present time, stopped off in Chillicothe Thursday, where he soon became unconscious and in a serious condition.

He admitted having a drink of whisky, which he said was an uncommon thing for him to do, and believes that the booze was doped.

The man had a telegram sent to N. K. Patch in this city, whom he claimed was managing the view concern. Word was received in Cincinnati late Thursday afternoon that Patch would reach that city on the next train and take care of his companion.

Dr. Meggenhofen, of Chillicothe, who examined Malone, stated that he believed the man had not been drugged but the whiskey, to which he was not accustomed, had caused the trouble.

The man was expected to be able to come to this city sometime Friday.

GOOD PROFIT IS REALIZED ON WEDNESDAY'S BENEFIT RACES

Thousand or More Spectators Are Treated in Return to Some Good Racing.

Definite figures have not been arrived at as yet but it is closely estimated that the big matinee races Thursday, held by the matinee club for the financial benefit of the Y. M. C. A., netted that institution something between $150 and $200.

While this is not so well as might have been done, it is considered "pretty good," and the Y. M. C. A. and Matinee Club officials are thankful for the response and generosity of those who attended.

The money taken in amounted in all to about $475, which includes admission fees, sale of soft drinks, etc., entry fees and all.

The thousand or more persons who availed themselves of the entertainment were well repaid by some of the keenest racing seen on the local track in many a day.

The weather was pleasant, the track fast and the competition sharp. Besides this the city band, with a few extra pieces and under the leadership of Ed Bath, of Wilmington, furnished some tip top music "between times" and on the whole the crowd was well and continuously entertained.

As had been announced, the Y. M. C. A. had charge of the privileges and its unique idea of employing many of its business-men members as "pop boys" and "peanut butchers" went a long way toward garnering in the coin.

Many commendations have been offered the work of Starter Woodland. Wood got the horses away in good time and his announcements to the grand stand were clear and timely, making it easy for everybody to follow the scoring.

Dr. L. P. Howell and Charles Mark were the honorable judges. Clerk W. B. Rodgers presided at the entry book, while Morgan Baker and Will Worthington worked the stop-watches.

The first race was the free-for-all pace and was won by Hydrie, with Florence McKinney a close second. Bonnie Wreath, doing her maiden race, made a good showing. Only three started.

The 2:20 trot drew out four starters and was warmly contended. McKinney A. C. got the decision in the fifth heat when Ben Hurr, with two firsts and a length lead, broke on the home stretch. Nellie Wiggins went sick after the third heat and had to be drawn.

The green pace had six starters. Governor Cox won three straight, but was hard pressed throughout by Lulu Hal.

Six started in the green trot. Elsie Wreath, after finishing last in the first heat, took a new lease and came in first with good leads in the next three. Fayette Dan and Farmer McKinney gave the winner a pretty good run for her money.

The racing schedule (in order) and results follow:

In Social Circles

Miss Edith Purtell, south of town, celebrated her seventeenth birthday with a delightful evening party. Forty young people responded to the invitations and spent a merry evening in diversified amusements. The parlor and dining room was prettily decked with pink and white roses and the same color scheme was carried out in the delicious collation served.

The pretty young hostess was assisted in the hospitalities by her mother, Mrs. Henry Purtell, and cousin, Miss Lillie Purtell. Miss Loreen Pummill, of Celina, was a guest.

Mrs. Girard pleasantly entertained the Wesley Chapel Mite Society at her home on Fayette street, Wednesday afternoon. A bounty of beautiful and fragrant June roses graced the rooms throughout. Many guests enjoyed the rare hospitality of the hostess, who with her guests appeared in summer toilettes.

The assisting hostesses are entitled to praise for the success of the meeting for which they had provided an interesting program.

The program included piano solo, Mrs. Kelley; recitation, Miss Tobin; vocal solo, Miss Kier; recitation with her doll by little Miss Susie Irene Tracey; violin solo, Mr. Kneisley; vocal solo, Daisy Cockerill; reading, Mrs. Wilt; piano solo, Golda Ryan. Victrola music added much to the pleasure of the afternoon.

A dainty collation was served by the assisting hostesses, Mesdames E. A. McCoy, Earl McLean, Ben Mershon, H. C. Shoop, Perill, Switzer. Miss Golda Ryan was accompanist.

Forty-five members of the Grace church Ladies Aid Society attended the regular session of the society, held in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Elmer Junk was in charge of the program rendered, and following the program a short business session was held and refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were enjoyed.

The program consisted of a charming piano solo by Miss Ruth Reid, two pleasing original readings by

Miss Irene Tobin, piano duet by Misses Ruth Reid and Dorothy Bush. A social hour accompanied the serving of refreshments. The hostesses of the afternoon were: Mrs. Ada Jones, Mrs. Elmer Junk, Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Mrs. C. E. Lloyd, Misses Minnie Light and Ivah Larimer.

Mrs. Anda Henkle pleasantly entertained the "500" club Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Val McCoy entertained at her delightful country home Friday Mrs. Robert Howat and daughter Miss Jean, Mrs. Grant Hays, and Miss Rose McLean.

The Commencement Dance, held at the Elks' club rooms, Thursday night recorded itself as an exceptionally beautiful ball—the girls all looked so pretty—many of them enjoying the pleasures of Terpsichore for the first time, and the brilliant ball room presented a scene of radiant youth and high spirits that rejuvenated older onlookers.

Fifty couples joined in the grand march, led by Miss Katharine Rothrock and Mr. Emerson Chapman. It was purely a dance of the younger set, with only a sprinkling of older society folk.

The Horstman trio furnished music that was in itself an inspiration.

A three-course supper, on an unusually elaborate scale, was served, with the scarlet and grey class colors extremely effective in decoration.

The tables were lovely, with high white baskets filled with crimson and white carnations and greenery, the handles tied with big bows of grey tulle. The first course of red strawberries on green leaves gave added decoration.

It was a late hour when the gay dancers reluctantly heard the strains of the Home Sweet Home waltz.

The arrangements were competently managed by the commencement committee, Emerson Chapman, Paul Craig and Jack Worrell, assisted by the Elks' social session committee, Messrs. D. H. C. Bowen, Arthur Burgett and Sylvia Leary.

Mrs. E. M. Boggess, Mr. and Mrs. Halder Boggess and baby arrived from Mt. Oreb, Brown county, Thursday and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dunn.

Mrs. Ada Jones returned from Columbus, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Claude Post, to attend the commencement exercises, Thursday night. Miss Helen Jones is also home from Columbus, having completed her four year course at the O. S. U.

James Ballard is home from Denison University for the summer vacation.

Miss Bertha Swope arrived from East Cleveland Friday evening to be the guest of Miss Bess Cleveland.

Mrs. Roy Hyer and son, of Austin, were the guests of Mrs. Roy Mallow for the races Thursday.

Mrs. Clarence Baer and sons are spending the summer with Mrs. Baer's mother, Mrs. Townsend, at her summer home at Chippewa Lake.

Misses Lucile and Katherine Henderson, Mildred Price, Katherine Fisher and Demaris McMillan, of Wilmington, are being entertained for the week end by the girls of the Sour Pickle club.

Mr. Roy Hagler and family and Mr. Frank L. Parrett and family attended the Dayton Horse Show Thursday.

Miss Ruth Grafton is visiting relatives at Sidney.

THAT REWARD FOR PASSENGER PIGEONS

The following information regarding the Passenger, or Wild Pigeon is issued by the United States Department of Agriculture:

"Recent widespread newspaper accounts to the effect that the United States Department of Agriculture is offering $10,000 reward to the person finding a passenger or 'wood' pigeon nest containing two eggs, resulted in hundreds of letters being sent to the Department. The report is not based upon facts as the Department has offered no such reward, and there is every reason to believe the passenger pigeon which formerly roamed the country in flocks of millions is extinct.

"In 1910 about $1,000 in rewards were offered by Clark University for the first undisturbed nests of the passenger pigeon to be found in the United States. This was a great stimulus to action. The hunt for this pigeon was fruitless. The offer of rewards was renewed for several years until it was fully established that the pigeon was extinct.

"The passenger pigeon up to 1885 ranged the American continent east of the Rocky Mountains. The mourning dove has often been mistaken for the passenger pigeon, which in a general way it resembles. However, this bird is quite distinct from the passenger pigeon; it is shorter and has different color markings. "The press reports stated that the now extinct passenger pigeon was valued because of its usefulness in destroying the gipsy moth and other moths and pests which are doing millions of dollars of damage. Although the preservation of this pigeon is much to be desired, it would be of absolutely no value to eliminating the gipsy moth as the pigeons are almost entirely vegetarian in their diet."

BRYAN WILL HEAD LARGE DELEGATION

New York, June 18.—Ex-Secretary of State Bryan will head a delegation of 50 of the most prominent labor men in this country next Tuesday, to present to the president of the nation a set of resolutions indorsing Mr. Bryan's plans for mediation and for the conduct of the United States in its present difficulties.

Congressman Frank Buchanan of Illinois, labor exponent, made this announcement at a meeting of representatives of many labor unions at Beethoven hall, where plans are being made for the labor meeting to be held tomorrow evening at Carnegie hall. Congressman Buchanan said that he had extended an invitation to Mr. Bryan by telegraph to come to New York Saturday evening and be the principal speaker at the meeting. Mr. Bryan accepted.

The former secretary will explain to the labor men his proposition for mediation by the United States, his views on the war question and his idea for a congress of neutral nations to end the war. It is expected that his plans will be indorsed. Resolutions approving them will be drawn up and a delegation of fifty members will be appointed to carry them to the president. Although the personnel of the delegation has not yet been decided on, Congressman Buchanan will be a member, as will Samuel Gompers and Ernest Bohm, corresponding secretary of the Central Federated union. The others will be named at Carnegie hall and the entire delegation will be headed by Mr. Bryan.

Practically every national labor union in the country will be represented at the meeting. Delegates will represent 3,000,000 members of the Farmers' union, the 2,000,000 members of the American Federation of Labor and the 1,000,000 railway workers. Congressman Fowler of Chicago and ex-President John Fitzpatrick of the Chicago Federation of Labor are among the delegates.

Bryan's Second Statement.

Mr. Bryan, in the second of his series of statements on "The Causeless War," submits an argument against military preparation by the United States and praises the course of President Wilson in the international emergency. He asserted that preparedness provokes rather than prevents war, and that the upheaval in Europe was a result of the false philosophy that "might makes right." "If any nation is without excuse for entering into a mad rivalry with the belligerent nations in preparation for war, it is the United States," says Mr. Bryan. "We are protected on either side by thousands of miles of ocean, and this protection is worth more to us than any number of battleships." Mr. Bryan lauded President Wilson's course. He added: "What an unspeakable misfortune it would have been if, in such an hour as this, the nation had been under a leadership of a president inflamed by the false philosophy which has plunged Europe into the abyss of war."

The First Principle of Good Health

One great medical authority declares that sluggish bowels are the cause of more than half the ills that afflict mankind. A constipated condition quickly affects the liver and other organs, so that indigestion and constipation are soon followed by biliousness, headaches, chronic bad breath and a generally disarranged condition of the system.

Foley Cathartic Tablets are an ideal physic, for their action is wholesome and thoroughly cleansing, without griping, nausea or inconvenience. They invigorate and strengthen the bowels and have a good effect on the stomach and liver.

L. L. Levey, Green Bay, Wis., writes: "For a long time I suffered from constipation and liver trouble. Nothing seemed to help me. I finally secured Foley Cathartic Tablets and am pleased to state they have cured me. They are the finest cathartic to take I have ever used and their effect is quick and sure."

Washington, June 18.—After A. She Gah Hre, principal chief of the Osages, attached his thumb mark to a document at the interior department, assenting to the disposition of oil and gas leases in the Osage reservation covering 680,000 acres and valued at many millions of dollars, he remarked, "Ugh, guess that will do."

Andrew Big Horse also signed, for he could write. When E. Gron Kah Shin Kah was asked to assent as a member of the Osage tribal council, he pressed his thumb mark upon the paper. Peter Big Heart was able to write. Other signers for the tribal council of six and the officers all wrote their names, and Secretary Lane and Indian Commissioner Sells witnessed the signatures and thumb marks. Then everybody went to the White House to see the "Great White Father." For once the government officers and the Indians had been able to agree on the disposition of Indian property.

MEYER GERHARD NOT DR. A. MEYER

New York, June 18.—Proof that Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, the German Red Cross lecturer, who sailed for Berlin June 6 under the special protection of the United States government as a special messenger of Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, was not the mysterious "Dr. A. Meyer," a German officer, was produced by Captain E. Z. Eckler, who is now the head of the local German Red Cross office.

It consisted of a letter written by Dr. Meyer-Gerhard in Jacksonville, Fla., in his own handwriting on March 8 last, the day on which, according to Mrs. Selma Lewis and a local newspaper, Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, posing as Dr. A. Meyer, privy councillor of the first rank and chief of the department of army supplies of the imperial German government, signed a contract with her relative to the proposed purchase of 350,000 Krag-Jorgensen rifles. On March 8 Dr. Meyer-Gerhard was supposed to have been in this city in consultation with Mrs. Lewis.

The letter supports the statement to the effect that neither Dr. Meyer-Gerhard nor Dr. Meyer of the imperial government called upon Mrs. Lewis, but that a man, posing as one of these for his own purpose, did see her. The letter indicates that the story published about the departure of a German officer in the guise of Dr. Meyer-Gerhard is untrue.

VON BERNSTORFF UTTERS A DENIAL

Washington, June 18.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, who was in New York, made an engagement by telegraph to call at the state department personally to inform Secretary Lansing that there is no foundation for published reports that a safe conduct obtained for Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard had been used to return to Europe by Dr. Alfred Meyer, a German purchasing agent of war munitions.

SUB SENDS DOWN BRITISH STEAMER

London, June 18.—The British steamer Trafford was sunk by a German submarine, thirty miles off the Small Islands. Her crew was landed at Milford Haven.

BATTLE GOES ON ALONG THE ENTIRE LINE

London, June 18.—It is fairly certain that there is fighting along the entire 700 miles of the eastern battle line. From the Niemen, as it goes into East Prussia, to the Servian line at the border of Bukowina, 3,550,000 Germans and Austrians have assumed the offensive against the Russian armies.

There are reports of spirited actions at Augustowo, Kalvaria, Grodno, around Ossowiec, along the Mamulew and Narew line, north of Przasnysz in the Vistula river, south of that line in the Baura river, and then in Galicia, where the heaviest fighting of all is to be found in the general advance from three directions toward Lemberg, with the idea of clearing the entire country of Russians.

One official dispatch received from Berlin says: "German forces along the Rawka river, in central Russian Poland, west of Warsaw, have now taken the offensive. The German battle line in Poland, Galicia and Bukowina is now 682 miles long. The Germans and Austrians are attacking the enemy in a decisive battle and big results are expected."

This official statement was followed by a dispatch which read: "The Russians have abandoned their positions to the north of Sienawa, on the San river in Galicia, and have been retreating toward Tarnogorod, in Russian Poland."

The official statement of the Russian general staff tells of the fighting and speaks of successes at certain points, but says very little of the general situation.

The official communication issued by the French war office describes intense activity along the French front, the allied forces delivering powerful attacks and the Germans counter attacking furiously. To the north of Arras, the French have carried several lines of German trenches and are making marked progress toward Souchez. Heavy losses on both sides are reported.

Death Toll Appalling.

In the Vosges, Altenhof, a suburb of Metzeral, on the river Fecht, has been captured. Metzeral itself has been set on fire by the Germans and is burning. Steinbruck, a little to the north of Metzeral, has fallen into French hands after a furious assault.

In the north, between Souchez and Neuville, the fighting has been even more furious, on this front the Germans having arrayed an army of 200,000 men, with heavy reserves in the rear, and drove forward against the French in a desperate effort to regain the ground lost there during the last few weeks.

Repeated attacks were hurled back by the French forces, who, striking quickly while the Germans were in confusion, pressed forward, making important gains on three sides of Souchez and advancing in three directions from Neuville. The French batteries during the fierce battle of the last twenty-four hours have fired nearly 300,000 shells, while the Germans have used probably no fewer.

The death toll in the face of such artillery work has of necessity been very large. The war office admits that the French losses have been serious.

An Athens dispatch says that a British submarine torpedoed and sank three Turkish transports loaded with troops in the Dardanelles above Nares. The greater part of the troops and crews is said to have been drowned.

It is officially announced at Rome that the Italian submarine Medusa has been torpedoed and sunk by an Austrian submarine.

The German admiralty announces the loss of the submarine U-14. Her crew was captured by the British.

IN THE NAME OF CARRANZA

Vera Cruz, Mexico, June 18.—General Pablo Gonzales is expected to enter Mexico City today and again take the city in the name of First Chief Carranza and the Constitutionalists. For the past two weeks his forces have been advancing on the capital, which is held by the Zapatistas for the conventionalists. Provisional President Chazaro has been head of the government there for the past few weeks. Monday General Gonzales received a committee of three from the capital and told them when they asked terms for the city that the conventionalists must lay down their arms and acknowledge Carranza. A trainload of postal employees left for Mexico City to start the service as soon as Gonzales enters. It is not expected that Carranza will move his government from Vera Cruz for some time at least.

FALL WHILE TESTING AN AEROPLANE

Paris, June 18.—Lieutenant Reginald A. J. Warneford, the young Canadian aviator who recently won the Victoria Cross and the Legion of Honor for destroying in midair a Zeppelin airship in northern France, lost control of a new aeroplane he was testing near Paris and the machine tumbled to earth from a great height. Lieutenant Warneford was killed instantly. Henry Beach Needham, the American writer, in Europe to get impressions of the war, was a passenger with Warneford. He too was killed.

The exact cause of the accident is unknown and will remain so, as the aeroplane and its engine are a mass of tangled wreckage. But the cause may be found in part, at least, by the fact that Lieutenant Warneford remarked on leaving the Hotel Ritz for the testing grounds that he felt sick and dizzy and would not fly, although he had been asked to experiment with some new machines.

By the time he reached the aviation grounds, however, he had recovered his usual buoyancy, and immediately set about to ascend in one of the aeroplanes to be tested. He took the machine up alone, put it through some of the customary maneuvers, and alighted without mishap.

Then he got into the second machine, which was of the same type as the first, and taking Needham as a passenger, soared into the air. It was a perfect day for testing work. There is no telling the exact height the aeroplane had attained when the mishap, whatever it was, occurred. But it was so high that nothing out of the ordinary could be detected by the spectators on the ground until the machine came plunging downward.

Banish the Fly Plague

MORE than a score of giant fly traps were placed on street corners in St. Louis in order to educate the public to a fuller realization of the benefits to health that would result from a vigorous anti-fly campaign. In explaining the purpose of this object lesson the health commissioner said: "These traps, with the disease spreading flies they catch, will bring home to people quicker than anything else the full meaning of the early spring fly campaign and will serve to remind them constantly of what means they should use in their homes to exterminate the fly."

CONSTRAINT OF PEACE IS URGED

Philadelphia, June 18.—An organization whose object will be to promote the creation of a league of nations with a view to preventing wars, or at least to lessen the possibilities of armed conflicts, was formed in Independence hall here. The name adopted by the organization, after some debate, was "League to Enforce Peace, American Branch."

Former President Taft, who presided over the conference for a part of the time, was elected permanent president and, in addition, a long list of representative American citizens was named as permanent vice presidents. A permanent executive committee was selected with instructions to take all measures necessary to promote the objects of the league.

The conference was not an assemblage of what one participant termed pure peace men, but a gathering of those who, for the most part, believed in trying to bring about peace even though they had to use force to do it.

There was an animated discussion over the adoption of the name and the only divisions that occurred on the several questions that came before the conference was on the changing of the title of the organization and eliminating from the report of the resolutions committee that paragraph which bound members of the league of nations to use both their economic and military forces against any one of their number that goes to war against another member before the questions at issue are submitted to the tribunals provided for by the league.

George W. Kirchwey, professor of law, Columbia university, suggested that the name be changed to "League to Establish and Maintain Peace." The proposed elimination of the word "force" found supporters, but it was defeated after a vigorous speech by A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard university and chairman of the resolutions committee. "We are here to enforce peace, otherwise we have no business here at all," he exclaimed with spirit. "When you fight a forest fire you fight it with backfire. We have here a means to discourage war, and that means is the threat to use force."

After this speech the report of the committee was adopted.

TWO HELD FOR MURDER

Cincinnati, June 18.—Noble Moore, a negro, also known as George Johnson, and William Dean, white, are detained by the police in connection with the murder of Elizabeth Nolte, eleven, whose mutilated body was found near a rear door of the Nolte home. Moore is twenty-three years old and once stabbed a man to death. For this crime he served sixteen months in a reformatory. Moore had been accused by little Elizabeth of annoying her and was to appear in court for trial. He told the police he knew nothing about the murder of the girl. Dean, who is twenty-seven years old, works for a junk dealer near the Nolte home. He also denied knowing anything of the murder. Dean said his connection with the case came through the fact that Mrs. Nolte informed him Tuesday night that her daughter was missing and asked him to aid her. The police are of the opinion that the murder was committed by a degenerate. The girl's body was fearfully mutilated.

DISEASE NO INJURY SUPREME COURT HOLDS

Columbus, June 18.—Disability caused by occupational disease is not an injury, as defined by the workmen's compensation law, and the state industrial commission can not grant awards in such cases. The supreme court so held, sustaining the refusal of the commission to grant an award to David Brown of Cincinnati, who contracted "lead colic" while working for the Eagle White Lead company.

FILM TO BE DESTROYED

New York, June 18.—The 3,542 feet of movie film depicting the Ritchie-Welsh fight in London in July, 1914, is to be destroyed by the federal authorities in accordance with an order issued by Judge Hough in the United States district court. The film was brought over shortly after the fight by George Considine, but was held up by the federal authorities on the theory that its importation was a violation of the Sims law prohibiting the bringing into the country or the transportation in interstate commerce of any film depicting a prizefight or a pugilistic encounter. In vain the attorney, Judge Considine tried to convince Judge Hough that the Ritchie-Welsh affair was merely a boxing match.

RECRUITING WAXES WARM IN CANADA

Ottawa, Ont., June 18.—The tide of recruiting is on the flood and within a few weeks, it was estimated, Canada will have 160,000 men with the colors. A steady stream of men is flowing into the recruiting offices. Already, it is stated, there are between 125,000 and 140,000 men under arms.

She was eighty-one years old and is survived by four sons and two daughters. She was born in Wayne township, Butler county, O.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

To Relieve Colic. Fennel water is an agreeable carminative in flatulence and colic. It relieves mild attacks of indigestion. Fifteen drops of fennel water (buy it from the druggist) in a little hot water every fifteen minutes until six doses are taken is the proper dosage for an adult. It may be taken in half teaspoonful doses in hot water three times a day between meals for two or three days if there is a great deal of intestinal rumbling and discomfort. Fennel does not cure any form of disease. It is a remedy for the temporary relief of pain or colic in digestive tract.

SUSPICION JUSTIFIED.

It Was Not a Mouse the Master Heard In the Kitchen. The late Rev. Dr. Wightman, sitting one night later than usual engrossed in the profundities of a great tome, imagined he heard a sound in the kitchen inconsistent with the cautiousness of a mouse; so, taking his candle, he proceeded to investigate the cause. His foot being heard in the passage, the servant began with much noise to rake out the fire as if preparing for bed.

"You're up late tonight, Mary."

"I'm jist rakin' the fire, sir, and gaun to bed."

"That's right, Mary. I like timely hours."

On his way back to the study he passed the coal cellar door and, turning the key, took it with him. The next morning at an early hour there was a rap at his bedroom door and a request for the key to get some coal.

"You're up too soon, Mary. Go back to your bed."

Half an hour later there was another knock and a similar request, in order to prepare for breakfast. "I don't want breakfast so soon, Mary. Go back to your bed."

In another half hour there was another knock, with an entreaty for the key, as it was washing day.

This was enough. He rose and handed out the key, saying, "Go and let the man out." As the preacher shrewdly suspected, Mary's sweetheart had been imprisoned all night in the coal cellar.—London Mail.

Starve the Fly By Sanitation

IF the food supply in the locality in which he is born gives out a fly will not migrate to some other part of the city in search of food. Nature has not endowed the insect with the power to travel great distances. Health experts who have studied the fly problem are of the opinion, therefore, that if each citizen would maintain his premises in such a sanitary condition that flies would find no food there the pests would starve by the millions and, in time, would disappear altogether.

HE WAS RESOURCEFUL.

But He Probably Didn't Get the Job For Which He Applied. There is a certain middle aged and old fashioned business man who is a little doubtful whether he or the other carried off the honors of war in an interview given to a smart young man. The smart young man was applying for a berth. "Let me see," said the merchant; "you've called on me before, but not on your present errand. The first time you represented Up to Date Limited and offered to put our concern on modern lines. Then you came on behalf of Systems & Files and said you were business doctors. And after that you came as the publicity expert of the Newest In Ads. company?" "That is so, sir."

"And are all these—er—companies dead?"

The young man reluctantly admitted that they were.

"Yet after coming here three times to offer to teach us our business when your concerns go down you coolly solicit a berth in this poor, effete old firm. Why, what use are you to us? Look at your record."

The optimist countered that easily. "You never know, sir. I might be very useful. Look what a splendid experience I've had in winding up companies."—Philadelphia Ledger.

8000 MILE
AUTO TRIP

Messrs C. A. Gossard, Clark Gossard and sister, Miss Josie, start Saturday on the most ambitious auto trip ever attempted in this section of the country. They have no time set for their return and expect to make an eight thousand mile trip across the continent in their own leisurely way, stopping where and whenever they please.
Their big touring car is especially equipped and they have the greatest camp outfit ever seen around here, much of it made to order, after their own designing.
For a long time Mr. Charles Gossard has had this trip under consideration and has worked out plans altogether unusual and conducive to a trip most out of the ordinary.
The car is now completely ready for the start Saturday morning and is being viewed by many. The entire camp outfit is held on the trunk rack, and to see it and know what it contains is to wonder.
An immense tin box holds all cooking utensils and provisions for 4 days. The stove and pipe are less than an inch thick and collapsible.
On top of this box is the tent, with jointed rods, three cots and bedding, chairs, table and everything which will be required for a comfortable trip.
Many articles have been cleverly contrived to answer a double purpose.
A block and tackle at one side of the car will provide for any unexpected accidents, such as deep mud holes, and a camp lantern and shovel are also ready.
The party travels via St. Louis,
Mo., through Kansas to Colorado Springs and the various places of interest in that section. From there the trip will continue southwest through New Mexico and Arizona, in the latter state taking in the wonderful petrified forest, and the greatest unbroken pine forest in the world,
also the Painted Desert.
After a stop at the Grand Canyon
the party proceeds to California.
The dangers of this part of the trip across the great American Desert, often called the Death Valley, where the heat is almost unbearable and no water for 150 miles, are not to be minimized and friends here will be glad to hear from the Gossards after it is crossed.
California will be fully covered,
with the longest stops at Los Angeles and San Francisco.
Returning from the Land of Flowers, the trip covers Nevada, Idaho, Wyoming and the intermediate states
enroute to Ohio.
The party expects to make a week
stop at Yellow Stone Park.
Whenever possible the trip will be made over the new Lincoln Highway.
It is a foregone conclusion that the Gossard tourists will bring back an intensely interesting story of travel and adventure.

BASEBALL

If the weather man will just have a heart the fans will be given a real life-size treat Sunday afternoon.
The Wilmington Clintons meet the Athletics here in the second of a series of games in which Wilmington won the first.
In spite of their recent streak of hard luck the Athletics will be able to meet the Clintons with a regular baseball team.
Hung Can't Come.
A letter from Backstop Hungeling, who is laid up at his home in Dayton with a game leg—fractured just above the ankle—was received by Manager Noon today. Hunge says he has been forced to give up his hope of witnessing the Wilmington game.
Doctor's orders. The peg, he says, is encased in plaster of paris and it will be at least two weeks before he will be able to get around.
Hung doesn't say anything about his chances of getting back in the game this season but they are regarded by his teammates as slim.
Signed Up.
The Athletic management has announced that Lewis, third sacker;
Rhodes, shortstop, and Billy Hedge-cock, catcher—all signed for the Wilmington game—have been engaged for the balance of the season.

MEN ABANDON 600
ACRE CORN CROP

W. S. Talkington and family and Emery Talkington and wife have arrived in this city from near Vicksburg, Miss., where they have just abandoned 600 acres of corn owing to the wet weather and the widespread appearance of Bermuda grass and "Coco" grass, which have taken complete possession of the corn land and made further cultivation next to impossible.
The corn was nearly waist high when the grass appeared and, as it is nearly impossible to kill the grass, the men surrendered their lease and left for Ohio. Had the crop matured it would have been worth approximately $15,000.
Messrs Talkington expect to locate in this city for the present.

GASES AND SOLIDS.

The Attraction Between Them and How It May Be Illustrated.

It is an interesting fact that gases will cling to the surface of solids to a wonderful extent. If a piece of iron is placed in a bucket of water and the water heated, bubbles will be seen coming from the iron. They are merely parts of the air film on the iron expanded by heat till the water buoyancy becomes great enough to detach them from the surface.
On account of this peculiar attraction of all solids for all gases, any scientific or other instrument devised to work in a vacuum must first be thoroughly heated before it is ready for use.
If a solid has an extraordinary power of absorbing or occluding gases, the fact is utilized for other purposes.
Charcoal will absorb gas, and it is consequently used to take gas out of vessels and as a sanitary agent. In fact, charcoal is medicinal in some respects,
being prescribed for patients troubled with gas on the stomach. After the charcoal is swallowed it absorbs the gas in the stomach and the unpleasant distension is gone.
If one cares to try a little experiment
let him fill the mouth full of tobacco smoke and blow it gently and slanting-ly downward on the surface of a smooth table. The smoke will be seen to remain on the surface for three or four minutes, or even longer, although smoke, as is well known, tends to rise on account of being warmer than the air; also in spite of the fact that the process of diffusion is tending to make it mix with the air. If the experiment is tried at night under a red light and on a smooth mahogany table, the scenic effects produced by the convolutions of smoke are positively uncanny.—Boston Post.

A curious looking object is the sucking fish, which has a peculiar disk fitted to the crown of its head. By means of this it attaches itself to any fish it chooses—a shark or whale, for instance, or turtles and even ships—and so it is carried about without any trouble. When once attached they stick like glue, and they are occasionally used for purposes of fishing. A line is fixed to the fish's tail, which is then set free. As soon as it discovers a fish or a turtle it takes a firm hold.
In the simplest form of fishing the line is dragged in and the sucking fish hauled up, together with its captive.
In the case of a turtle the fisherman dives after the line and so secures the victim.

TEUTONIC DRIVE PROVING COSTLY

Russ Claim Austro-German Forces Lost "Tens of Thousands" in Two-day Battle and 120,000 to 150,000 Along 38-Mile Front in Galicia—Stand Made in Prepared Positions 16 Miles From Lemberg—Allied Forces Annihilated in Attack Near La Basse—British Are Making Scant Headway in Dardanelles' Campaign.

London, June 18.—The assertion is made by the Russian War Office that the Austro-German advance in Galicia has been made at the cost of great losses.

In two days' fighting near Stry, the Teutonic forces are said to have lost "tens of thousands of men," and on one section of 38 miles on the Galician front, between May 29 and June 15, their losses are placed at between 120,000 and 150,000.

Reports from Berlin and Vienna, however, indicate that the Russians are being pushed back steadily all along the front.

Berlin, June 18.—In northern Galicia an official statement says, the Russians have been pushed back further. They have made a stand behind prepared positions at Grodek, which is only 16 miles from Lemberg.

London, June 18.—An attack on French and British forces on the western end of the German line, which has been pushed vigorously and with considerable success for some time, is said by Berlin to have sustained a severe check.

Constantinople, via Berlin, June 18. An inspection of the Turkish positions at Avli Burnu on the west coast of the Gallipoli peninsula, made by a correspondent of the Associated Press, shows that the British have lost most of the ground formerly held in that district.

They now hold only a small crescent to the northward of Gaba Tepec on the west coast of the peninsula, near its extremity. 2800 yards long and 1100 yards wide at its broadest point.

This position includes three small barren hill crests and a beach below. The British troops have little water and they are without shelter from the sun.

A correspondent of the Associated Press, permitted to visit the Gallipoli peninsula, was reliably informed that the British fleet had taken refuge from German submarines in Kafala Bay, on the northeast coast of Imbros Island, distant about 10 miles from the Gallipoli coast.

The British ships could be seen from heights on the shore, at anchor in the bay. On three different occasions the Turks have been successful in exploding mines under British vessels in their place of refuge.

Berlin, June 18.—Official announcement was made here today that the allied forces which attacked German positions north of La Basse, northwestern France, was destroyed, only a few succeeding in retreating.

BULGARIA IS MAKING SURE

Berlin, June 18.—A report says that Bulgaria, in her last communication to the powers in the matter of her participation in the war, refers to her expectation, as part of her reward, of the restitution of the territory she ceded to Roumania and other portions of Greek and Serbian Macedonia.

It is reported from many quarters that Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, who has just arrived at Berlin with a personal message from the German ambassador to the Kaiser, was accompanied by no less a person than Dr. Alfred Meyer, privy councillor of the first rank, chief of the department of army supplies of the ministry of war and a power in the German government.

TORNADO KILLS 13

Kansas City, Mo., June 18.—Thirteen persons were killed as a result of the wind and rain storm that prevailed in this section of the south-west last night. More than a score of others were injured, none fatally.

Five members of the family of John Burgess, a farmer near Onaga, were killed, and two seriously injured in a tornado which swept the country early today, according to reports received at the Topeka offices of the Union Pacific railroad.

The same report asserted that houses were wrecked, stock was killed and much property damage done.

At Westmoreland, Kansas, Charles Morris, a railroad president, his son and a druggist were drowned, when a bridge gave way under a railroad gasoline car. The accident followed a cloudburst.

Three persons lost their lives at Richmond, Mo., when a terrific wind swept that section. Two women and a child were killed there.

A farmer near Wamago was struck by lightning and killed.

The farmhouse of Joseph Gregg, located 3 miles south of Latour, Mo., was blown to pieces early today, his aged aunt, Mrs. Altman, being killed. Another aunt, residing with him, Mrs. Gregg, was injured, it is thought fatally. Gregg and his wife escaped. The dead total 13.

DEFIANCE IS IN REPLY TO PRESIDENT'S NOTE

"President" Chazaro, Head of the Villa-Zapata Government, Challenges Consistency of Wilson and Says If Note Is Threat "Dignity of Mexican People Will Be Maintained"—Food Situation Desperate at Vera Cruz—Admiral Howard Acted Upon Own Initiative.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 18.—Francisco Lagos Chazaro, the latest president of the Villa-Zapata coalition government in Mexico City, today replied to President Wilson's Mexican statement by challenging the consistency of the president's declaration with his much-discussed Indianapolis speech.

Chazaro says the convention government cannot reconcile the president's notice to the factional leaders in Indianapolis that he had no disposition to interfere in Mexican affairs, "but," says Chazaro's reply, "we continue to conjecture that the general idea of President Wilson's proclamation is to help us in a friendly way."

Washington, June 18.—The food situation in Vera Cruz has become so desperate that Rear Admiral Caperton, fearing food riots, has proposed that warships transport the relief supplies and thus increase his forces.

For the present the Navy Department will not increase American forces there and will continue sending food supplies on transports.

Admiral Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet, in taking two cruisers on the relief expedition to the Yaqui valley, acted on his own initiative. When the admiral arrives, five American warships will be off Guaymas.

DONAHEY WILL BE CANDIDATE

MEDIATION THE ONLY WAY TO END CONFLICT

Says Bryan in Third Statement Issued on "Causeless War"—Neutrals Should Crystallize Sentiment in Favor of Peace Into a Coercive Form and Offer Mediation, Is His Theory—Universal Extension of Investigation Commission Would End War and Root Out Desire for War, Says Former Secretary.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 18.—Former Secretary Bryan, in the third and concluding section of his statement on "The Causeless War," issued today, suggests mediation as "the way out." As a preventative of war Mr. Bryan proposes universal extension of his investigation commission peace treaty plan.

"Mediation," the former secretary of state said, "is the means provided by international agreement, through which the belligerent nations can be brought into conference; time for investigation of all disputes is the means by which future wars can be averted, and the cultivation of international friendship is the means by which the desire for war can be rooted out."

In elaborating his plans for restoration of peace, Mr. Bryan urges that neutral nations, in advocating peace, crystallize sentiment in favor of peace into a coercive force and offer mediation jointly or severally.

"Great nations cannot be exterminated," says Mr. Bryan, "Predictions made at the beginning of the war have not been fulfilled. The English did not destroy the German fleet in a month. Germany did not take Paris in two months, and the Russian army did not eat Christmas dinner in Berlin."

"But even if extermination were possible it would be a crime against civilization, which no nation or group of nations could afford to commit."

"When can peace be restored? Any time now, if the participants are really weary of this war and ready for it to end."

Later Ambassador Bernstorff said he had told Secretary Lansing the whole story was "an absolute fabrication," and that he had taken official notice of it only because of his desire to assure the president of the United States and the secretary of state that he had not sought to deceive them.

The ambassador said he did not know what could be done by the State Department, but he thought that if American officials were satisfied with his complete repudiation of the story they should make some published statement to that effect.

CLAIM MAIL WAS OPENED

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 18.—The first official protest growing out of reports of the interference with the mails since the European war began was before Secretary Lansing of the State Department today, with a request for action.

The complaint was lodged by the Swedish minister, for his government, and it is declared United States pouches destined for Sweden have been broken open in England; that letters have been broken open in England and censored, and that one registered letter had been retained.

It was said in diplomatic circles that representations would probably be made by the United States to Great Britain, asking that special precautions be taken to protect American mail passing through British territory.

FIRST FIGHT OF ITS KIND IN HISTORY

By Associated Press.

Venice, June 18.—Details have been received here of the recent remarkable engagement between an Italian and an Austrian submarine in which the Italian boat was vanquished. This is the first time in the history of naval engagements that an encounter by undersea boats has been recorded.

The Italian boat was the Medusa. She was lying submerged and the Austrian boat was not far away, also under water. Neither one had any intimation of the presence of the other.

The Medusa came to the surface, swept the horizon with her periscope and, finding the way clear, she emerged. Shortly afterward the Austrian boat came up. She set up her periscope and saw the Italian not far away.

Recognizing an enemy the Austrian boat immediately attacked and one shot from her torpedo was sufficient to send the Medusa to the bottom. One report has it that an officer and four members of the crew of 14 men of the Medusa escaped, and were made prisoners by the Austrians.

The president of Johns Hopkins university says that a large percentage of students nowadays do not aim at a "well defined career or profession." What, then, would he call the aim to be "a college graduate?"

BERNSTORFF PERSONALLY DENIES STORY

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 18.—Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, today personally informed Secretary Lansing that neither he nor any member of the embassy staff had any knowledge of a Dr. Meyer said to have been secretly in the country buying war supplies.

Published reports have said that Meyer returned to Germany under a safe conduct obtained for Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, from the allies by the United States, at the ambassador's request.

The ambassador also assured Secretary Lansing that Dr. Meyer-Gerhard never had engaged in any work other than his mission for the German Red Cross. He made no request for an official investigation of the published charges.

Science Denies Theory

Science refuses to support the theory that the effect of explosives in the air causes rainfall. On the contrary she is inclined to take issue with the various newspaper articles of the past month which have to this cause attributed the excessive rains, interfering with the operations of the fighting battalions, and brand such statements as showing lack of careful investigation.

Science has demonstrated that those forces of nature which result in condensation and precipitation are silent forces. Vaunted attempts to produce rain in the laboratory by explosives have not proved the success expected and the discharging of high explosives in the air has not been followed by any uniform results in falling rain.

To be sure, rainfall has frequently attended battles and followed closely upon them, but there have been just as many outbursts of explosive force accompanied by sunshine rather than rain.

The immense discomfort on battlefields drenched with rain impresses such an occasion upon the minds of soldiers. We hear often of the water soaked field of Waterloo, while no mention is made of Napoleon's numerous fair weather battles.

The Fourth of July, with its very mild use of explosives, is quoted as proverbially rainy, but the veterans of the civil war can recall comparatively few battles which were followed by heavy rains.

In Essex, England, the great guns for the army and navy are tested out, and no other section of that country is so frequently subjected to the shock of explosives, yet English records of meteorology show that the rainfall of Essex is a fraction less than that of any other portion of England.

In citing the excessive rains which were attributed to the discharge of high explosives, these writers have apparently forgotten those preceding weeks, with the struggle just as fierce, marked by exceptionally dry weather.

There are certain parts of Europe especially given to frequent rainfalls, for instance, Belgium, where under ordinary conditions rain falls more than half the days of the year, and Ireland, where constant showers preserve the beautiful green of the "Emerald Isle."

Fertile as is the theory of the effect of discharging explosives in producing rainfall, scientific writers are inclined to attribute the argument by which people substantiate this theory to a memory not always dependable, and which in attempting to prove the theory overlook conditions which are equally strong in disproving these statements.

War Will Be Worth All Its Great Cost If It Brings Abstinence From Alcohol

By Colonel L. MERVIN MAUS, Medical Corps, U. S. A.

EVEN if the war in Europe costs ten billion dollars, if it destroys five million human lives and devastates the fairest countries of the world it will be a small price to pay compared with the value of total abstinence among those nations for succeeding generations. And I feel that it will come to that in the natural results of the war. This is not only a war of men against men, but a war against the greatest evil the world has ever known. THE WORLD HAS NEVER AWAKENED TO THIS EVIL, BUT THE WAR IS BRINGING TO THE UNDERSTANDING OF THIS WORLD THE EFFECTS OF ALCOHOL UPON THE HUMAN MIND.

I have advocated to the department that the men in the military, naval and civil services of the United States should be compelled by law to be total abstainers. Government employees should not be allowed to drink during active service. I have advocated this for a long time, and I hope that the day is not far distant when every officer's commission will bear a temperance clause.

IT IS MY BELIEF THAT ANY MAN HAS AS MUCH RIGHT TO TAKE A HYPODERMIC INJECTION OF MORPHINE OR COCAINE AS A DRINK OF WHISKY.

Poetry For Today

THE FLOWER.

Once in a golden hour
I cast to earth a seed.
Up there came a flower,
The people said, a weed.

To and fro they went
Thro' my garden-bower,
And muttering discontent
Cursed me and my flower.

Then it grew so tall
It wore a crown of light.
But thieves from o'er the wall
Stole the seed by night;

Sow'd it far and wide
By every town and tower,
Till all the people cried,
"Splendid is the flower."

Read my little fable;
He that runs may read.
Most can raise the flowers now
For all have got the seed.

And some are pretty enough,
And some are poor indeed;
And now again the people
Call it but a weed.

—Tennyson.

Iceland and Ireland.

Iceland was once very near to becoming a part of the British empire. Uninhabited until the middle of the ninth century, it was first discovered by a little company of Irish monks, who had fled their own land to escape the ravages of the pagan Norsemen. They built themselves a home in the new land, and seemingly intended to stay when, after a few years, the Norsemen also discovered Iceland, and the monks fled back to Ireland. Not a few Scotch and Irish emigrants, however, found their way to Iceland in later times.—London Express.

Fond of It.

"Why did you discharge my son?" demanded Mrs. Brown. "Why, he always told me that he was fond of the work here."

"He was," admitted the boss. "He was too fond of it. He was so fond of it that he went to sleep alongside of it about ten times a day."

THE FATAL COCKTAIL.

A working girl who had been out of work for a whole year
Secured a job attending bar at the Cafe de Beer.

The job was not a swell one, but the poor girl needed dough,
And she was glad to throw the suds and ring up five per throw.

She copped out three square meals an hour, and she was getting plump.
When one sad day a highbrow wandered into that there dump.

Now, this poor girl had never mixed a drink since she'd been hired,
And when she faced that highbrow she was scared and she was tired.

"Give me a nice Bronx cocktail," said the highbrow, with a grin.
"Yessir," the frightened girl replied, and then she started in.

She grabbed a beer glass, and she used some port wine for a start,
Then added some hot biters as she calmed her fluttering heart.

Next came some booze, some absinthe, some cider and some Bass,
Some gin, some rum, some sherry, until she filled the glass.

"Here is your drink," she said, "and if it's good I'll make some more!"
The highbrow drank the mixture and he fell down on the floor.

The coroner was summoned, but the man had kicked the pail.
Then to the girl a copper said, "You'll have to go to jail."

The man who is always watching the clock never sees an opportunity.

Luke McLuke Says

Despite the fact that the average American gets plenty of exercise by throwing the ball, we continue to measure more around the waist line than we do around the chest.

There are a few things that nature can't do. But she can make a red-headed woman out of a beautiful blond shortly after the beautiful blond gets married.

When you win a bet you have no trouble in remembering that you made the bet. But when you lose the bet your memory isn't quite so good.

Safety first means that when your wife asks you if you think a neighbor woman is pretty you should say "No!"

A man can say more in the way he slams the front door when he leaves the house than his wife said in the two hours she spent in nagging him.

Do not be fooled by appearances. The tender little dove before marriage often turns out to be a tough old ostrich after marriage.

A corn fed may have other troubles. But she never has to hunt a full length mirror to see if her hips are on straight.

Some of the old maids are so anxious to appear younger than they really are that they wouldn't mind having chickenpox just to prove that they are still broilers.

The woman who hasn't any does more worrying over her complexion than the woman who has one.

The old fashioned man who used to hide his money in the toe of his shoe so his wife wouldn't find it now has a married son who lets the bartender ring up all his loose change before he comes home.

When friend wife buys a tie for friend husband she always selects one that will queer him with other women.

After a man has been married a while, when he buys his wife a birthday present he always selects something that the whole family can use.

Ask the average man a simple question, and instead of giving you a direct answer he will start in and make a speech.

Where is Your Grain?

Suppose by hard work you had got together a bushel of very fine, very rare, very costly grain. You wouldn't put it in an old stove—you wouldn't hide it in some out-of-the-way place. Rats, mice or birds might destroy it insects make it worthless—fire destroy it—servants steal it. You would keep that costly grain in a safe place so that you could plant it and get a bounteous harvest. Why not use the same care with your hard-earned dollars. Keep them at the Fayette County Bank. The Ancients Swatted the Fly

FLIES have always carried disease, even in Biblical times, but their power to do harm has increased with the number of people. It is interesting to note in passing that many important sanitary ordinances, rules and habits prevailed at that period (Leviticus xv, 11; Leviticus (distinction) xlii and xlv; Hebrews ix, 10, and Mark vii, 4) and long before the Christian era, but that more has been done within the past decade for sanitation than had previously been achieved during the last 2,000 years.

PAINTED POST.

Story of the Incident That Gave the Place Its Name.

There's not a drummer between New York and San Francisco who hasn't at some stage of his drumming career made game of the name of the town of Painted Post. And after everybody laughs you may hear the query, "But I wonder where it did get its name?" Here is the story:

In the summer of 1779 the English and Indians under a loyalist, McDonald, and Hlakatoo, a renowned Seneca war chief, returned north from a raid by way of Pine creek, the Tioga and the Conchocton. They brought with them their own wounded and some prisoners taken at Freely's fort.

Under the elms at the confluence of the Tioga and Conchocton Captain Montour, a half breed and a noted war chief, died of his wounds. He was the son of Frontenac by the famous Indian Queen Catherine. He was buried by the river side, and above his grave was placed a post on which were painted various symbols and devices. This monument became known as the painted post and was a landmark often visited by the braves and chieftains of the Six Nations.

The post stood for many years after the settlement of the country. Finally it rotted down at the butt and was preserved in the barroom of a tavern until 1810, when it disappeared. Some say it was swept away during a freshet.—New York Sun.

CURIOUS COBRA TRAP.

And a Queer Snake Theory Held by the Natives of India.

A naturalist tells us of an odd kind of snake trap that caught its victim securely. It was a biscuit can, and in the bottom of it were some macaroons.

A cobra spied the can, but a mouse was ahead of the cobra. The little thief was having a good time regaling himself on the macaroons, all unconscious that a snake was preparing to regale itself on mouse. Into the can went the head of the snake, but the head that went in was destined to come out less easily. The rough edges of the can irritated the cobra, and involuntarily it dilated its hood. That made it a prisoner. With the hood dilated the head could not be withdrawn, and the cobra remained in its tin prison until morning, when it was easily captured and killed.

Stradling, who knows the natives of India as well as he knows the snakes of that land, tells of an interesting theory held by these people. They are firmly convinced that for every human being a snake bites it loses one joint. When the number of deaths the snake has caused equals the number of its joints the venomous head alone remains. The snake has now reached the height of its wicked desires, and at this point it develops wings and triumphantly disappears. — Washington Star.

The Clock's Hands.

"Come, hurry up!" said the second hand of a clock to the minute hand. "You'll never get around in time if you don't. See how fast I'm going," continued the fussy little monitor as it fretted round on its pivot.

"Come, hurry up," said the minute hand to the hour hand, utterly oblivious of being addressed by the second hand. "If you don't be quick you'll never be in at the stroke of 1."

"Well, that's just what our young friend there has been saying to you." At this point the clock pealed forth the hour as the hour hand continued: "You see, we're in time, not one of us behind. You take my advice, do your own work in your own way and leave others alone."

FIFTY AUTOMOBILE LOADS OF GREENFIELD CITIZENS COMING

Public invited to Attend Union Session of the Men's Bible Classes of Greenfield and Grace Church at 2:30 Sunday Afternoon—Need of More Machines for Trip to Greenfield, One Week From Sunday.

Considerable interest centers on the coming to this city Sunday afternoon, of the Ergonian Men's Bible class of the M. E. church of Greenfield, and it is announced that 50 automobile loads will be utilized to carry the visitors.

The union meeting of the visiting class and the Mills Gardner Memorial Class of Grace church, will be held in the main auditorium of Grace church at 2:30 o'clock, and the general public will be made welcome. The entire down-stairs portion of the main auditorium will be reserved for the two classes.

The meeting will be presided over by Judge T. N. Craig, president of the local class, and the leading address of the afternoon will be delivered by Rev. F. M. Swinehart, of Greenfield, and Editor O. A. White, of Greenfield. Rev. Ross will deliver the address of welcome. The regular choir will lead the congregation.

THINKS BOOZE HAD BEEN DOPED

A man giving the name of Z. T. Malone, of Burlington, North Carolina, who was on his way to this city and said he was associated with the "Keystone View Company" which is said to be located here at the present time, stopped off in Chillicothe Thursday, where he soon became unconscious and in a serious condition.

He admitted having a drink of whisky, which he said was an uncommon thing for him to do, and believed that the booze was doped.

The man had a telegram sent to N. K. Partch in this city, whom he claimed was managing the view concern. Word was received in Cincinnati late Thursday afternoon that Partch would reach that city on the next train and take care of his companion.

Dr. Meggenhofen, of Chillicothe, who examined Malone, stated that he believed the man had not been drugged but the whiskey, to which he was not accustomed, had caused the trouble.

The man was expected to be able to come to this city sometime Friday.

REOPENING OF THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The work of decorating the First Baptist church has just been completed by the Bryant Bros. Company of Columbus, Ohio. The color scheme consists of somber creams for the ceiling merging into shades of cathedral gray for the side walls.

The colors and designs of the ornaments are also most harmonious. The frieze is of a center fixture or pendant connected with band effect back of which there is a blending of colors which very appropriately offset the upper side walls. In the baptistry there is a blending of colors from a sky blue to a darker blue of a greenish hue. The whole tends to give a pleasant, restful feeling to the observer. The work has been highly commended and favorably commented upon by various well known competent judges of art in this city.

The building is being thoroughly renovated and the pews and floors re-finished. This work will be completed before Sunday, June 20, when appropriate services will be held both morning and evening.

THREE ARE TAKEN TO XENIA WORKS

Chief of Police, D. L. Moore and Patrolman Baughn accompanied Florence Mann, Belle Mann Green and Ray Smith to the Xenia workhouse Friday morning, and turned them over to Supt. D. E. Crowe for a lengthy term in that institution.

The two women were sentenced to three months in the institution, and are expected to remain the full time. Smith was fined $100 and the costs for resisting an officer and will be required to work out that amount.

Florence Mann, who recently left this city in company with a man who deserted his family, and her sister, Bell Green, sentenced to the works for failing to provide for her minor child, each have a $200 fine hanging over their heads, and if their conduct crosses with the law after they are released, the $200 will be enforced.

George Green, husband of Belle Green, still has several weeks in the workhouse. He is said to be sullen and not inclined to obey readily, making prison life doubly disagreeable.

WILL OPEN NORTH STREET TOMORROW

It will be good news to local citizens to learn that North street from East street to Paint street, is to be thrown open to traffic sometime Saturday.

The street has sufficiently "cured" to permit of moderate loads, but extremely heavy loads should not be hauled over the street for a few days.

Since the street is to be opened, it will offer easy access to Grace church when the 50 automobile loads from Greenfield arrive in this city Sunday afternoon.

In Social Circles

Miss Edith Purtell, south of town, celebrated her seventeenth birthday with a delightful evening party. Forty young people responded to the invitations and spent a merry evening in diversified amusements. The parlor and dining room was prettily decked with pink and white roses and the same color scheme was carried out in the delicious collation served.

The pretty young hostess was assisted in the hospitalities by her mother, Mrs. Henry Purtell, and cousin, Miss Lillie Purtell. Miss Loren Pummill, of Celina, was a guest.

Mrs. Girard pleasantly entertained the Wesley Chapel Mite Society at her home on Fayette street, Wednesday afternoon. A bounty of beautiful and fragrant June roses graced the rooms throughout. Many guests enjoyed the rare hospitality of the hostess, who with her guests appeared in summer toilettes.

The assisting hostesses are entitled to praise for the success of the meeting for which they had provided an interesting program.

The program included piano solo, Mrs. Kelley; recitation, Miss Tobin; vocal solo, Miss Kier; recitation with her doll by little Miss Susie Irene Tracey; violin solo, Mr. Kneisley; vocal solo, Daisy Cockerill; reading, Mrs. Wilt; piano solo, Golda Ryan. Victrola music added much to the pleasure of the afternoon.

A dainty collation was served by the assisting hostesses, Mesdames E. A. McCoy, Earl McLean, Ben Mer-shon, H. C. Shoop, Perill, Switzer.

Miss Golda Ryan was accompanist.

Forty-five members of the Grace church Ladies Aid Society attended the regular session of the society, held in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Elmer Junk was in charge of the program rendered, and following the program a short business session was held and refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were enjoyed.

The program consisted of a charming piano solo by Miss Ruth Reid, two pleasing original readings by

Miss Irene Tobin, piano duet by Misses Ruth Reid and Dorothy Bush. A social hour accompanied the serving of refreshments. The hostesses of the afternoon were: Mrs. Ada Jones, Mrs. Elmer Junk, Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Mrs. C. E. Lloyd, Misses Minnie Light and Ivah Lar-rimer.

Mrs. Val McCoy entertained at her delightful country home Friday Mrs. Robert Howat and daughter Miss Jean, Mrs. Grant Hays, and Miss Rose McLean.

The Commencement Dance, held at the Elks' club rooms, Thursday night recorded itself as an exceptionally beautiful ball—the girls all looked so pretty—many of them enjoying the pleasures of Terpsichore for the first time, and the brilliant ball room presented a scene of radiant youth and high spirits that rejuvenated older onlookers.

Fifty couples joined in the grand march, led by Miss Katharine Roth-rock and Mr. Emerson Chapman. It was purely a dance of the younger set, with only a sprinkling of older society folk.

The Horstman trio furnished music that was in itself an inspiration.

A three-course supper, on an unusually elaborate scale, was served, with the scarlet and grey class colors extremely effective in decoration. The tables were lovely, with high white baskets filled with crimson and white carnations and greenery, the handles tied with big bows of grey tulle. The first course of red strawberries on green leaves gave added decoration.

It was a late hour when the gay dancers reluctantly heard the strains of the Home Sweet Home waltz.

The arrangements were competently managed by the commencement committee, Emerson Chapman, Paul Craig and Jack Worrell, assisted by the Elks' social session committee, Messrs. D. H. C. Bowen, Arthur Burgett and Sylvia Leary.

Mrs. E. M. Boggess, Mr. and Mrs. Halder Boggess and baby arrived from Mt. Oreb, Brown county, Thursday and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dunn.

passenger pigeon to be found in the United States. This was a great stimulus to action. The hunt for this pigeon was fruitless. The offer of rewards was renewed for several years until it was fully established that the pigeon was extinct.

"The passenger pigeon up to 1885 ranged the American continent east of the Rocky Mountains. The mourning dove has often been mistaken for the passenger pigeon, which in a general way it resembles. However, this bird is quite distinct from the passenger pigeon; it is shorter and has different color markings. "The press reports stated that the now extinct passenger pigeon was valued because of its usefulness in destroying the gipsy moth and other moths and pests which are doing millions of dollars of damage. Although the preservation of this pigeon is much to be desired, it would be of absolutely no value to eliminating the gipsy moth as the pigeons are almost entirely vegetarian in their diet."

BRYAN WILL HEAD LARGE DELEGATION

New York, June 18.—Ex-Secretary of State Bryan will head a delegation of 50 of the most prominent labor men in this country next Tuesday, to present to the president of the nation a set of resolutions indorsing Mr. Bryan's plans for mediation and for the conduct of the United States in its present difficulties.

Congressman Frank Buchanan of Illinois, labor exponent, made this announcement at a meeting of representatives of many labor unions at Beethoven hall, where plans are being made for the labor meeting to be held tomorrow evening at Carnegie hall. Congressman Buchanan said that he had extended an invitation to Mr. Bryan by telegraph to come to New York Saturday evening and be the principal speaker at the meeting. Mr. Bryan accepted.

The former secretary will explain to the labor men his proposition for mediation by the United States, his views on the war question and his idea for a congress of neutral nations to end the war. It is expected that his plans will be indorsed. Resolutions approving them will be drawn up and a delegation of fifty members will be appointed to carry them to the president. Although the personnel of the delegation has not yet been decided on, Congressman Buchanan will be a member, as will Samuel Gompers and Ernest Bohm, corresponding secretary of the Central Federated union. The others will be named at Carnegie hall and the entire delegation will be headed by Mr. Bryan.

Practically every national labor union in the country will be represented at the meeting. Delegates will represent 3,000,000 members of the Farmers' union, the 2,000,000 members of the American Federation of Labor and the 1,000,000 railway workers. Congressman Fowler of Chicago and ex-President John Fitzpatrick of the Chicago Federation of Labor are among the delegates.

Bryan's Second Statement.

Mr. Bryan, in the second of his series of statements on "The Causeless War," submits an argument against military preparation by the United States and praises the course of President Wilson in the international emergency. He asserted that preparedness provokes rather than prevents war, and that the upheaval in Europe was a result of the false philosophy that "might makes right." "If any nation is without excuse for entering into a mad rivalry with the belligerent nations in preparation for war, it is the United States," says Mr. Bryan. "We are protected on either side by thousands of miles of ocean, and this protection is worth more to us than any number of battleships." Mr. Bryan lauded President Wilson's course. He added: "What an unspeakable misfortune it would have been if, in such an hour as this, the nation had been under a leadership of a president inflamed by the false philosophy which has plunged Europe into the abyss of war."

The First Principle of Good Health

One great medical authority declares that sluggish bowels are the cause of more than half the ills that afflict mankind. A constipated condition quickly affects the liver and other organs, so that indigestion and constipation are soon followed by biliousness, headaches, chronic bad breath and a generally disarranged condition of the system.

Foley Cathartic Tablets are an ideal physic, for their action is wholesome and thoroughly cleansing, without griping, nausea or inconvenience. They invigorate and strengthen the bowel action and have a good effect on the stomach and liver.

J. L. Levey, Green Bay, Wis., writes: "For a long time I suffered from constipation and liver trouble. Nothing seemed to help me. I finally secured Foley Cathartic Tablets and am pleased to state they have cured me. They are the finest cathartic I have ever used and their effect is quick and sure."

INDIANS APPLY THUMB MARKS

Washington, June 18.—After A. She Gah Hre, principal chief of the Osages, attached his thumb mark to a document at the interior department, assenting to the disposition of oil and gas leases in the Osage reservation covering 680,000 acres and valued at many millions of dollars, he remarked, "Ugh, guess that will do."

Andrew Big Horse also signed, for he could write. When E. Gron Kah Shin Kah was asked to assent as a member of the Osage tribal council, he pressed his thumb mark upon the paper. Peter Big Heart was able to write. Other signers for the tribal council of six and the officers all wrote their names, and Secretary Lane and Indian Commissioner Sells witnessed the signatures and thumb marks. Then everybody went to the White House to see the "Great White Father." For once the government officers and the Indians had been able to agree on the disposition of Indian property.

MEYER GERHARD NOT DR. A. MEYER

New York, June 18.—Proof that Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, the German Red Cross lecturer, who sailed for Berlin June 6 under the special protection of the United States government as a special messenger of Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, was not the mysterious "Dr. A. Meyer," a German officer, was produced by Captain E. Z. Eckert, who is now the head of the local German Red Cross office.

It consisted of a letter written by Dr. Meyer-Gerhard in Jacksonville, Fla., in his own handwriting on March 8 last, the day on which, according to Mrs. Selma Lewis and a local newspaper, Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, posing as Dr. A. Meyer, privy councillor of the first rank and chief of the department of army supplies of the imperial German government, signed a contract with her relative to the proposed purchase of 350,000 Krag-Jorgensen rifles. On March 8 Dr. Meyer-Gerhard was supposed to have been in this city in consultation with Mrs. Lewis.

The letter supports the statement to the effect that neither Dr. Meyer-Gerhard nor Dr. Meyer of the imperial government called upon Mrs. Lewis, but that a man, posing as one of these for his own purpose, did see her. The letter indicates that the story published about the departure of a German officer in the guise of Dr. Meyer-Gerhard is untrue.

VON BERNSTORFF UTTERS A DENIAL

Washington, June 18.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, who was in New York, made an engagement by telegraph to call at the state department personally to inform Secretary Lansing that there is no foundation for published reports that a safe conduct obtained for Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard had been used to return to Europe by Dr. Alfred Meyer, a German purchasing agent of war munitions.

SUB SENDS DOWN BRITISH STEAMER

London, June 18.—The British steamer Trafford was sunk by a German submarine, thirty miles off the Small Islands. Her crew was landed at Milford Haven.

BATTLE GOES ON ALONG THE ENTIRE LINE

London, June 18.—It is fairly certain that there is fighting along the entire 700 miles of the eastern battle line. From the Niemen, as it goes into East Prussia, to the Servian line at the border of Bukovina, 3,550,000 Germans and Austrians have assumed the offensive against the Russian armies.

There are reports of spirited actions at Augustowo, Kalvaria, Grodno, around Ossowiec, along the Mamulew and Narew line, north of Przasnysz in the Vistula river, south of that line in the Baura river, and then in Galicia, where the heaviest fighting of all is to be found in the general advance from three directions toward Lemberg, with the idea of clearing the entire country of Russians.

One official dispatch received from Berlin says: "German forces along the Rawka river, in central Russian Poland, west of Warsaw, have now taken the offensive. The German battle line in Poland, Galicia and Bukovina is now 682 miles long. The Germans and Austrians are attacking the enemy in a decisive battle and big results are expected."

This official statement was followed by a dispatch which read: "The Russians have abandoned their positions to the north of Sienawa, on the San river in Galicia, and have been retreating toward Tarnogorod, in Russian Poland."

The official statement of the Russian general staff tells of the fighting and speaks of successes at certain points, but says very little of the general situation.

The official communication issued by the French war office describes intense activity along the French front, the allied forces delivering powerful attacks and the Germans counter-attacking furiously. To the north of Arras, the French have carried several lines of German trenches and are making marked progress toward Souchez. Heavy losses on both sides are reported.

Death Toll Appalling.

In the Vosges, Altenhof, a suburb of Metzeral, on the river Fecht, has been captured. Metzeral itself has been set on fire by the Germans and is burning. Steinbruck, a little to the north of Metzeral, has fallen into French hands after a furious assault.

In the north, between Souchez and Neuville, the fighting has been even more furious, on this front the Germans having arrayed an army of 200,000 men, with heavy reserves in the rear, and drove forward against the French in a desperate effort to regain the ground lost there during the last few weeks.

Repeated attacks were hurled back by the French forces, who, striking quickly while the Germans were in confusion, pressed forward, making important gains on three sides of Souchez and advancing in three directions from Neuville. The French batteries during the fierce battle of the last twenty-four hours have fired nearly 300,000 shells, while the Germans have used probably no fewer.

The death toll in the face of such artillery work has of necessity been very large. The war office admits that the French losses have been serious.

An Athens dispatch says that a British submarine torpedoed and sank three Turkish transports loaded with troops in the Dardanelles above Nares. The greater part of the troops and cargo is said to have been drowned.

It is officially announced at Rome that the Italian submarine Medusa has been torpedoed and sunk by an Austrian submarine.

The German admiralty announces the loss of the submarine U-14. Her crew was captured by the British.

IN THE NAME OF CARRANZA

Vera Cruz, Mexico, June 18.—General Pablo Gonzales is expected to enter Mexico City today and again take the city in the name of First Chief Carranza and the Constitutionalists. For the past two weeks his forces have been advancing on the capital, which is held by the Zapatistas for the conventionalists. Provisional President Chazaro has been head of the government there for the past few weeks. Monday General Gonzales received a committee of three from the capital and told them when they asked terms for the city that the convention alists must lay down their arms and acknowledge Carranza. A trainload of postal employees left for Mexico City to start the service as soon as Gonzales enters. It is not expected that Carranza will move his government from Vera Cruz for some time at least.

FALL WHILE TESTING AN AEROPLANE

Paris, June 18.—Lieutenant Reginald A. J. Warneford, the young Canadian aviator who recently won the Victoria Cross and the Legion of Honor for destroying in midair a Zeppelin airship in northern France, lost control of a new aeroplane he was testing near Paris and the machine tumbled to earth from a great height. Lieutenant Warneford was killed instantly. Henry Beach Needham, the American writer, in Europe to get impressions of the war, was a passenger with Warneford. He too was killed.

The exact cause of the accident is unknown and will remain so, as the aeroplane and its engine are a mass of tangled wreckage. But the cause may be found in part, at least, by the fact that Lieutenant Warneford remarked on leaving the Hotel Ritz for the testing grounds that he felt sick and dizzy and would not fly, although he had been asked to experiment with some new machines.

By the time he reached the aviation grounds, however, he had recovered his usual buoyancy, and immediately set about to ascend in one of the aeroplanes to be tested. He took the machine up alone, put it through some of the customary maneuvers, and alighted without mishap.

Then he got into the second machine, which was of the same type as the first, and taking Needham as a passenger, soared into the air. It was a perfect day for testing work. There is no telling the exact height the aeroplane had attained when the mishap, whatever it was, occurred. But it was so high that nothing out of the ordinary could be detected by the spectators on the ground until the machine came plunging downward.

Banish the Fly Plague

MORE than a score of giant fly traps were placed on street corners in St. Louis in order to educate the public to a fuller realization of the benefits to health that would result from a vigorous anti-fly campaign. In explaining the purpose of this object lesson the health commissioner said:

These traps, with the disease spreading flies they catch, will bring home to people quicker than anything else the full meaning of the early spring fly campaign and will serve to remind them constantly of what means they should use in their homes to exterminate the fly.

If your customer loses his patient you cannot help him to find it by losing your own.—Youth's Companion.

CONSTRAINT OF PEACE IS URGED

Philadelphia, June 18.—An organization whose object will be to promote the creation of a league of nations with a view to preventing wars, or at least to lessen the possibilities of armed conflicts, was formed in Independence hall here. The name adopted by the organization, after some debate, was "League to Enforce Peace, American Branch."

Former President Taft, who presided over the conference for a part of the time, was elected permanent president and, in addition, a long list of representative American citizens was named as permanent vice presidents. A permanent executive committee was selected with instructions to take all measures necessary to promote the objects of the league.

The conference was not an assemblage of what one participant termed pure peace men, but a gathering of those who, for the most part, believed in trying to bring about peace even though they had to use force to do it.

There was an animated discussion over the adoption of the name and the only divisions that occurred on the several questions that came before the conference was on the changing of the title of the organization and eliminating from the report of the resolutions committee that paragraph which bound members of the league of nations to use both their economic and military forces against any one of their number that goes to war against another member before the questions at issue are submitted to the tribunals provided for by the league.

George W. Kirchwey, professor of law, Columbia university, suggested that the name be changed to "League to Establish and Maintain Peace." The proposed elimination of the word "force" found supporters, but it was defeated after a vigorous speech by A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard university and chairman of the resolutions committee. "We are here to enforce peace, otherwise we have no business here at all," he exclaimed with spirit. "When you fight a forest fire you fight it with backfire. We have here a means to discourage war and that means is the threat to use force."

After this speech the report of the committee was adopted.

TWO HELD FOR MURDER

Cincinnati, June 18.—Noble Moore, a negro, also known as George Johnson, and William Dean, white, are detained by the police in connection with the murder of Elizabeth Nolte, eleven, whose mutilated body was found near a rear door of the Nolte home. Moore is twenty-three years old and once stabbed a man to death. For this crime he served sixteen months in a reformatory. Moore had been accused by little Elizabeth of annoying her and was to appear in court for trial. He told the police he knew nothing about the murder of the girl. Dean, who is twenty-seven years old, works for a junk dealer near the Nolte home. He also denied knowing anything of the murder. Dean said his connection with the case came through the fact that Mrs. Nolte informed him Tuesday night that her daughter was missing and asked him to aid her. The police are of the opinion that the murder was committed by a degenerate. The girl's body was fearfully mutilated.

DISEASE NO INJURY SUPREME COURT HOLDS

Columbus, June 18.—Disability caused by occupational disease is not an injury, as defined by the workmen's compensation law, and the state industrial commission can not grant awards in such cases. The supreme court so held, sustaining the refusal of the commission to grant an award to David Brown of Cincinnati, who contracted "lead colic" while working for the Eagle White Lead company.

OPIUM DEN RAIDED BY FEDERAL SLEUTHS

Newark, N. J., June 18.—A raid on an alleged opium den here by federal authorities resulted in the taking of $10,000 worth of smuggled opium, complete sets of pipes and lamps and other materials for the manufacture of opium.

FILM TO BE DESTROYED

New York, June 18.—The 3,542 feet of movie film depicting the Ritchie-Welsh fight in London in July, 1914, is to be destroyed by the federal authorities in accordance with an order issued by Judge Hough in the United States district court. The film was brought over shortly after the fight by George Considine, but was held up by the federal authorities on the theory that its importation was a violation of the Sims law prohibiting the bringing into the country or the transportation in interstate commerce of any film depicting a prizefight or a pugilistic encounter. In vain the attorney, for Considine tried to convince Judge Hough that the Ritchie-Welsh affair was merely a boxing match.

RECRUITING WAXES WARM IN CANADA

Ottawa, Ont., June 18.—The tide of recruiting is on the flood and within a few weeks, it was estimated, Canada will have 160,000 men with the colors. A steady stream of men is flowing into the recruiting offices. Already, it is stated, there are between 125,000 and 140,000 men under arms.

STEUBENVILLE'S MAYOR OUSTED AND FINED

Steubenville, O., June 18.—George W. McLeish was ousted as mayor of this city and given a suspended fine of $10 and costs in criminal court following his conviction a week ago on an indictment charging extortion by collecting excessive fees from prisoners tried in mayor's court. His retirement is effective July 1. President of Council Ralston will succeed him.

FORMER GOVERNOR COX'S MOTHER DEAD

Dayton, June 18.—Mrs. Eliza Cox, mother of former Governor James A. Cox, died at the home of her son in this city shortly after 10 last night, after a week's illness from bronchial pneumonia. She was eighty-one years old and is survived by four sons and two daughters. She was born in Wayne township, Butler county, O.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

To Relieve Colic.

Fennel water is an agreeable carminative in flatulence and colic. It relieves mild attacks of indigestion. Fifteen drops of fennel water (buy it from the druggist) in a little hot water every fifteen minutes until six doses are taken is the proper dosage for an adult. It may be taken in half teaspoonful doses in hot water three times a day between meals for two or three days if there is a great deal of intestinal rumbling and discomfort. Fennel does not cure any form of disease. It is a remedy for the temporary relief of pain or colic in digestive tract.

SUSPICION JUSTIFIED.

It Was Not a Mouse the Master Heard in the Kitchen.

The late Rev. Dr. Wightman, sitting one night later than usual engrossed in the profundities of a great tome, imagined he heard a sound in the kitchen inconsistent with the cautiousness of a mouse; so, taking his candle, he proceeded to investigate the cause. His foot being heard in the passage, the servant began with much noise to rake out the fire as if preparing for bed.

"Ye're up late tonight, Mary."

"I'm jist rakin' the fire, sir, and gaun to bed."

"That's right, Mary. I like timely hours."

On his way back to the study he passed the coal cellar door and, turning the key, took it with him. The next morning at an early hour there was a rap at his bedroom door and a request for the key to get some coal.

"Ye're up too soon, Mary. Go back to your bed."

Half an hour later there was another knock and a similar request, in order to prepare for breakfast. "I don't want breakfast so soon, Mary. Go back to your bed."

In another half hour there was another knock, with an entreaty for the key, as it was washing day.

This was enough. He rose and handed out the key, saying, "Go and let the man out." As the preacher shrewdly suspected, Mary's sweetheart had been imprisoned all night in the coal cellar.—London Mail.

Starve the Fly By Sanitation

IF the food supply in the locality in which he is born gives out a fly will not migrate to some other part of the city in search of food. Nature has not endowed the insect with the power to travel great distances. Health experts who have studied the fly problem are of the opinion, therefore, that if each citizen would maintain his premises in such a sanitary condition that flies would find no food there the pests would starve by the millions and, in time, would disappear altogether.

HE WAS RESOURCEFUL.

But He Probably Didn't Get the Job For Which He Applied.

There is a certain middle aged and old fashioned business man who is a little doubtful whether he or the other carried off the honors of war in an interview given to a smart young man.

The smart young man was applying for a berth.

"Let me see," said the merchant; "you've called on me before, but not on your present errand. The first time you represented Up to Date Limited and offered to put our concern on modern lines. Then you came on behalf of Systems & Files and said you were business doctors. And after that you came as the publicity expert of the Newest In Ads. company?"

"That is so, sir."

"And are all these—er—companies dead?"

The young man reluctantly admitted that they were.

"Yet after coming here three times to offer to teach us our business when your concerns go down you coolly solicit a berth in this poor, effete old firm. Why, what use are you to us? Look at your record."

The optimist countered that easily.

"You never know, sir. I might be very useful. Look what a splendid experience I've had in winding up companies."—Philadelphia Ledger.

8000 MILE AUTO TRIP

Messrs C. A. Gossard, Clark Gossard and sister, Miss Josie, start Saturday on the most ambitious auto trip ever attempted in this section of the country. They have no time set for their return and expect to make an eight thousand mile trip across the continent in their own leisurely way, stopping where and whenever they please.

Their big touring car is especially equipped and they have the greatest camp outfit ever seen around here, much of it made to order, after their own designing.

For a long time Mr. Charles Gossard has had this trip under consideration and has worked out plans altogether unusual and conducive to a trip most out of the ordinary.

The car is now completely ready for the start Saturday morning and is being viewed by many. The entire camp outfit is held on the trunk rack, and to see it and know what it contains is to wonder.

An immense tin box holds all cooking utensils and provisions for 4 days. The stove and pipe are less than an inch thick and collapsible.

On top of this box is the tent, with jointed rods, three cots and bedding, chairs, table and everything which will be required for a comfortable trip.

Many articles have been cleverly contrived to answer a double purpose.

A block and tackle at one side of the car will provide for any unexpected accidents, such as deep mud holes, and a camp lantern and shovel are also ready.

The party travels via St. Louis, Mo., through Kansas to Colorado Springs and the various places of interest in that section. From there the trip will continue southwest through New Mexico and Arizona, in the latter state taking in the wonderful petrified forest, and the great unbroken pine forest in the world, also the Painted Desert.

After a stop at the Grand Canyon the party proceeds to California.

The dangers of this part of the trip across the great American Desert, often called the Death Valley, where the heat is almost unbearable and no water for 150 miles, are not to be minimized and friends here will be glad to hear from the Gossards after it is crossed.

California will be fully covered, with the longest stops at Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Returning from the Land of Flowers, the trip covers Nevada, Idaho, Wyoming and the intermediate states enroute to Ohio.

The party expects to make a week stop at Yellow Stone Park.

Whenever possible the trip will be made over the new Lincoln Highway.

It is a foregone conclusion that the Gossard tourists will bring back an intensely interesting story of travel and adventure.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF KITCHEN GARDEN

There will be an important meeting of the Kitchen Garden at the Public Library tomorrow (Saturday) at 3:00 o'clock. All members urged to attend.

BASEBALL

If the weather man will just have a heart the fans will be given a real life-size treat Sunday afternoon. The Wilmington Clintons meet the Athletics here in the second of a series of games in which Wilmington won the first.

In spite of their recent streak of hard luck the Athletics will be able to meet the Clintons with a regular baseball team.

Hung Can't Come.

A letter from Backstop Hungeling, who is laid up at his home in Dayton with a game leg—fractured just above the ankle—was received by Manager Noon today. Hung says he has been forced to give up his hope of witnessing the Wilmington game. Doctor's orders. The peg, he says, is encased in plaster of paris and it will be at least two weeks before he will be able to get around.

Hung doesn't say anything about his chances of getting back in the game this season but they are regarded by his teammates as slim.

Signed Up.

The Athletic management has announced that Lewis, third sacker; Rhodes, shortstop, and Billy Hedgecock, catcher—all signed for the Wilmington game—have been engaged for the balance of the season.

Hanley Will Umpire.

A letter from John Spinny, of Cincinnati, states that he will send Tom Hanley up to umpire Sunday's game. Hanley has been umpiring for the Cincinnati Wiedemanns, and is well recommended.

Game Cancelled.

The game postponed from Tuesday until Thursday between the Presbyterians and Wesley Chaplains of the Sunday school league has been cancelled. This evening the Methodists and Christians are having a whirl at it.

GASES AND SOLIDS.

The Attraction Between Them and How it May Be Illustrated.

It is an interesting fact that gases will cling to the surface of solids to a wonderful extent. If a piece of iron is placed in a bucket of water and the water heated, bubbles will be seen coming from the iron. They are merely parts of the air film on the iron expanded by heat till the water buoyancy becomes great enough to detach them from the surface.

On account of this peculiar attraction of all solids for all gases, any scientific or other instrument devised to work in a vacuum must first be thoroughly heated before it is ready for use.

If a solid has an extraordinary power of absorbing or occluding gases, the fact is utilized for other purposes. Charcoal will absorb gas, and it is consequently used to take gas out of vessels and as a sanitary agent. In fact, charcoal is medicinal in some respects, being prescribed for patients troubled with gas on the stomach. After the charcoal is swallowed it absorbs the gas in the stomach and the unpleasant distension is gone.

If one cares to try a little experiment let him fill the mouth full of tobacco smoke and blow it gently and slantingly downward on the surface of a smooth table. The smoke will be seen to remain on the surface for three or four minutes, or even longer, although smoke, as is well known, tends to rise on account of being warmer than the air; also in spite of the fact that the process of diffusion is tending to make it mix with the air. If the experiment is tried at night under a red light and on a smooth mahogany table, the scenic effects produced by the convolutions of smoke are positively uncanny.—Boston Post.

A curious looking object is the sucking fish, which has a peculiar disk fitted to the crown of its head. By means of this it attaches itself to any fish it chooses—a shark or whale, for instance, or turtles and even ships—and so it is carried about without any trouble. When once attached they stick like glue, and they are occasionally used for purposes of fishing. A line is fixed to the fish's tail, which is then set free. As soon as it discovers a fish or a turtle it takes a firm hold. In the simplest form of fishing the line is dragged in and the sucking fish hauled up, together with its captive. In the case of a turtle the fisherman dives after the line and so secures the victim.
